JUGENDFEUERWEHR

Who are we?

The Jugendfeuerwehr is the youth organisation of the voluntary fire brigade.

No matter of decent, nationality and religion, boys and girls aged from about 10 to 17 engage themselves in the Jugendfeuerwehr in the local fire brigade. Sometimes, the youth sections of different fire brigades are grouped together.

The training of the Jugendfeuerwehr usually take place once a week or fortnightly. The young fire fighters are trained by specially qualified group instructors.

What happens there?

Of course, our main goal is to make young people aware of their future responsibilities towards the Voluntary Fire Brigade. This includes practical and theoretical training.

However, the aim of the training is not only to use a hose, but also to enable young people to provide excellent first aid. An extensive number of activities are on offer, which are carefully planned and organized, always involving young people. Among them are:

- handicrafts
- sightseeing
- camping trips
- environmental awareness
- performances
- fun and games
- sports

We encourage our young volunteers to bring forward their ideas and actively participate with organizing the programme.
